Home Decorating Contest for City Is Set Up Again

It's time to get out those Christmas lights and ornaments for the annual citywide home decorating contest.

Yes, once more families around Washington C. H. can match their ingenuity and artistic talents and at the same time help increase the general holiday spirit around town.

Just to provide a spice of incentive, there will be $50 in prizes that will be given out for the best decorated homes.

A judging team of four members of the Young Businessmen's committee will cover every street in the city on the judging night, which will probably be next Wednesday.

But according to Chairman Bob Sanderson, everyone should have the outdoor displays ready by the beginning of the week.

That will give the individual members of the judging team a chance to do a little preliminary scanning of the market.

Chairman Sanderson assured, however, that in the final judging every home with a display will be considered for prizes.

Once again there will be first, second and third cash prizes awarded in each of the city's four wards in addition to a grand prize.

The grand prize for the best home in the city will be $10 with ward prizes amounting to five, three and two dollars.

The $50 prize money is being furnished by the Chamber of Commerce and the Record-Herald.

From the way things are stirring around town, it will be just as tough selecting winners this year as it has been in the past.

Participation in the home decorating contest has always run high, but the judges are expecting a banner showing of decked-out homes this year.

Chairman Sanderson reminded that simplicity and imagination

Although she retired in 1941 after 50 years spent in school rooms in Fayette County, Miss Corda McCafferty, who resides in her lovely modern home at 914 Washington Avenue, is still deeply interested in everything educational and spends much time in reading, study and travel.

She is one of the city's best known former teachers, and throughout her long years as one of the leading educators in Fayette County, she went outside of her regular work to assist every pupil who needed such assistance, and gave all of her pupils a great deal more than what was carried in the regular school curriculum.

This is one of the many reasons why she is held in such high esteem by a large number of her former pupils who owe much of their success to her careful training.

Miss McCafferty started teaching in the Clariage or McCafferty school in Madison Township near her home, and through the years taught every grade except beginners class. She was principal of Cherry Hill school five years, and teacher of eighth grade mathematics in the Washington C. H. schools for 18 years.

She made it a plan to keep abreast of changing methods and systems, and studied in five different colleges, receiving her diploma from Wilmington College.

"When the boys and girls came up to my room they expected to get something outside of the text books, and they got it too," she said recently in discussing her school work.

Her travels have taken her into every state in the union except South Dakota and South Carolina, and into Canada, Mexico, Alaska, and 10 European countries.

I found that one of her hobbies is doing research work and gardening.

Among the many treasures in her home are some ancestral paintings, framed pictures from abroad, lovely chinaware and glassware and furniture, as well as many other articles which reflect culture and an appreciation for the beautiful and worth while things.

Featherless Rooster Gets Christmas Suit

ONTARIO, Calif., Dec. 15.—(AP)—Sam, the featherless rooster of Mobile, Ala., will sport a tweed suit, come Christmas.

The gift is from Mrs. Anne Brown, who saw the goose-pimpled bird in an Associated Press wirephoto. Sam hasn't sprouted a feather since he hatched into a chilly world eight months ago.

Mrs. Brown wrote Sam's owner, Nick Hasselwander, offering to make a wardrobe. Hasselwander sent measurements, adding that Sam would appreciate a warm suit so he can "saunter out and see something of the world."

Grangers From Here At Meet

Fair to Take Action On Fichter Ouster

Several residents of Fayette County were in attendance at the closing session of the 77th annual Ohio State Grange Convention in Columbus Thursday.

Among those from Fayette County who have been attending sessions of the convention are the following: Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Garringer, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rains, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Nisley, Mr. and Mrs. Forest Smith, Robert Cockerill, Mr. and Mrs. Chester James, W. W. Montgomery and Mr. and Mrs. Loren Hynes.

Delegates to the convention Thursday generally conceded that State Master Joseph W. Fichter had been given a vote of confidence.

Fichter has been under the fire of a group of members, including a committee in Fayette County. The opposition group, led by Wade Moreland of Newark, has made 17 accusations of misconduct of office against Fichter and filed the charges with the national executive committee.

Delegates figured that Fichter got a vote of confidence Thursday because of the following developments:

John E. Miller of Erie County yesterday was re-elected to the State Grange Executive Committee by an overwhelming majority.

Mrs. Ida H. Auck of Bucyrus, Crawford County, was elected state lecturer.

Mrs. Auck and her husband, Paul, are deputy masters in Crawford County. As such, they are the state master's representatives there. The county, with 132,000 members, is one of the organization's Ohio strongholds.

Miller, former deputy master, has served for the last three years on the executive committee.

Miller's opponent was W. G. Vandenberg of Zanesville. Mrs. Auck defeated C. C. Linerode of Canton.

Temperatures again dropped below zero over many midwest areas, with the center of the mid-December cold snap centering in Minnesota and Wisconsin. The freezing line extended into parts of the south and it was chilly in northern Florida. But federal forecasters reported mild weather in the Florida peninsula.

Temperatures were expected to moderate over most of the north central cold belt today. But the weather bureau said a new blast of cold air was headed into the Dakotas, Nebraska, Minnesota and Wisconsin by tomorrow night. Early morning lows today included -7 at Park Falls, Wis.; -5 at Duluth, Minn., and zero at Bismarck, N. D., and Rockford, Ill. Chicago's 7 above was a new low for the season.

The senator called attention to Washington grocery advertisements of brand coffee at 56 cents a pound that had been selling for 84 cents. But he held out slight hope for immediate return of "the nickel cup of java."

Two government officials gave Gillette's Senate Agriculture subcommittee encouraging news about coffee supplies at the final public hearing yesterday.

Philip M. Hauser, acting director of the census, said a spot check of coffee stock conducted at the senator's request indicated supplies on hand at the start of this month were about the same as last year.

John K. Havemeyer reported a state department check through U. S. embassies in Latin-America indicates coffee exports for the next season will be at least as large as those for the present year.

But Gillette called attention to census data that indicated "about 100,000,000 million pounds of coffee" moved out of stocks during October and November of this year.

Coupling this with testimony about "doubling of retail prices" and large increases in coffee speculating, Gillette said there has been "definite manipulation of the coffee market" with a resulting cost to U. S. consumers of $650,000,000.

Gillette said he has an idea who "manipulated or rigged" the price of coffee, but he declined to say more, except to add that such operations apparently are not illegal.

He indicated public hearings may be reopened early next year unless coffee prices come down.

Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) told that to reporters yesterday as he suspended public hearings until Congress meets again early in January.

All Old Bills To Be Paid by City This Month

Start of New Year With Clean Slate Council's Purpose

At the Wednesday night session of city council, ordinances were passed appropriating funds to wipe out all bills as the year draws to a close, so that the New Year may be started with a clean slate.

At the same time ordinances were passed to pay a $25 Christmas bonus to each of the 42 employees of the city, and to pay the same $25 monthly "cost of living bonus" to police, firemen and street and sewage disposal plant superintendents during next year, that was in effect this year.

Bills outstanding total in excess of $15,000, chiefly for material for street and alley work, and $11,500 of this amount was appropriated from the general fund.

Other transfers of funds were made so that funds would be available for paying all outstanding obligations, and this will be done by the City Auditor, Miss Marie Melvin, before the close of the year.

The $25 Christmas bonus for all employees, which will total $1,050, was included in an ordinance in which appreciation was expressed for the loyal and efficient work of the large number of city employees. Similar action has been taken by some of the surrounding cities.

An ordinance was adopted extending the present contract with Union Township for fire protection at $171.50 per month.

Another ordinance extended fire protection to Thurman Shelley's property part of which is within Union Township and part in Paint Township, was passed.

The matter of leasing a parking lot in the uptown area was discussed briefly and the matter carried over until the next meeting.

The reports of Police Court Justice R. H. Sites, for the month of November, was read.

The report showed 42 city cases, with fines, forfeitures and costs totaling $855.10; 31 state highway patrol cases $1061.60; 20 conservation department cases $1508.80; one county case $33.70; collections from previous month, $124.80. Thirty traffic tickets $30. Total collections $3,614.

Hope for Girl Lost in Woods Fades

Ruth Aberle... lost

KELSO, Wash. Dec. 15.—(AP)—An army helicopter was assigned today to the five-day old search for Girl Scout Ruth Aberle.

The 16-year-old girl vanished into the mountain woods northeast of here Sunday during a Christmas tree-cutting expedition.

Gov. Arthur Langlie's office requested the helicopter be sent here from Fort Lewis after ground parties had failed to locate any clue to the girl's fate.

There are few who believe the girl could have survived the winter weather in the woods.

13 Saved, 11 Missing As Ship Goes Down

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 15.—(AP)—Thirteen survivors of the Dutch motorship Doros were safe today but it was feared the remaining 11 crewmen had perished.

Five men were picked up by the SS Williamsburg last night. They reported the ship's cook had died and was buried at sea.

Eight others were brought here earlier in the day after being rescued from a lifeboat by the American tanker Sparrows Point.

The Williamsburg radioed shortly after midnight that it had picked up the men at 11:36 P. M. (EST) Wednesday about 35 miles due north of San Salvador, a little south of where tragedy overtook the 921-ton Doros Monday morning.

One coast guard plane took off early today to search the area about 300 miles due east of Miami where the Doros, bound from New York to Haiti, exploded and burned.

Steel Price Hike Plan Is Assailed by Labor

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—(AP)—A CIO spokesman said today the labor organization is "simply appalled by rumors of pending steel price increases."

Everett Kassarow, executive secretary of the CIO full employment committee, made the statement in testimony prepared for hearings of the Senate-House economic committee. He was called before a sub-committee which is studying ways to attract investment capital to small businesses.

Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) said a steel price increase would be "out of line" and would call for a congressional inquiry.

The increase which they referred to was forecast by Benjamin Fairless, president of the U. S. Steel Corp., in Chicago yesterday.

Fairless told a news conference his company is going to increase some prices and decrease others in a revision to be announced Friday.

Fairless blamed the recent freight rate boost and the pension plan won by Philip Murray's CIO steelworkers for the increased cost which he said necessitated the price rise.

Senator O'Mahoney is chairman of the economic committee, which probably would undertake any investigation. He told a reporter "I don't see how we can avoid it."

"The profit records of the steel industry indicate absolutely that an increase in the price of steel at this time would be absolutely out of line," he added.

"It utterly overlooks the public interest, because the steel industry produces a basic commodity which affects the prices of every other commodity."

A compilation by the Associated Press showed profits of 21 leading steel companies in the third quarter of this year, the last reported, were $108,665,219, which was nine percent below the $120,150,302 earned by the same companies in the third quarter of 1948. The third quarter earnings were 11 percent below the $123,409,210 figure for the second quarter of this year.

While steel company dollar profits have been at record or near-record levels, gross sales and revenues also have been at similar levels, along with payrolls, taxes and other costs. The ratio of profits to sales has not changed much in recent years.

The U. S. Steel Corporation, the country's largest producer, had a net income of $129,627,845 in 1948, which was approximately five percent of its gross sales and revenue of $2,473,142,802. In 1939, the last real peacetime year for steel, this company earned $41,119,934 on sales of $904,151,897, or approximately four and one-half percent.

The CIO's Kassarow argued: "Here is a situation where leading steel corporations made almost unbelievable profits in their last full quarter before the strike, and are now operating at even higher levels of capacity."

"Yet, on the pretext that material costs are up, they are getting ready to balk the public again."

"We earnestly request the joint committee to look into this scandalous situation. After all, it is less than three months since a federal fact-finding board concluded that in the light of the tremendous steel profits, price reductions—not increases—were in order."

Rep. Clarence Brown (R-Ohio) said he was not surprised by talk of a price increase. He told reporters he "sort of figured" the price of steel would go up after

Grain Market

CHICAGO, Dec. 15—(AP)—Grains were rescued from a downward path today when news of potential export business developed. Prices recovered in most cases, but still hung a little under the previous close.

Against these bullish factors, and out-weighting them much of the day, was an expansion in corn bookings to more than 150,000 bushels and reports more than 1,000,000 bushels of cash wheat will be delivered on December contracts tomorrow.

Financial Market

NEW YORK, Dec. 15—(AP)—The stock market slid down a bit today from the 13-month peak reached yesterday.

In another session of churning trade, losses were posted for a wide variety of leading shares. Declines were small, though, and on the whole heavy selling was well absorbed.

Steel Price Hike

"they put the pension in effect and increased the cost of production."

Brown added:

"I hear Senator O'Mahoney quotes the so-called fact finding board and says that the increase isn't necessary. He and President Truman and Phil Murray have more confidence in this board than I or the average American has."

Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) commented: "Well, if they want to kill the industry the way to do it is to boost their prices all out of proportion to agricultural prices."

Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich) said: "Of course they will get a steel price increase. Everybody knew when the strike was first called that the consumer would pay for it. It will be felt in the price of hairpins and on up the line."

A Warning, and Suggestion, From Sen. Byrd

One of the soundest thinking and most able members of the United States Senate, Hon. Harry F. Byrd, of Virginia, a strong and influential Democrat, recently made a public statement which is of vital importance to the nation.

Senator Byrd is a member of the Senate finance committee, armed services committee and chairman of the joint committee of the House and Senate on the reduction of non-established federal expenditures. He is therefore in a position to be well informed.

In this statement made this month he not only calls attention to the dangerous trend our government is following but offers a constructive program for a balanced budget.

Senator Byrd says: "It is apparent that the federal government is headed toward an extended era of chronic deficit spending which may continue until the public debt crushes us into national insolvency.

"We ended a fiscal year last June 30 with a deficit of nearly $2 billion. Next June 30 we shall end the current fiscal year with a deficit of from $5 billion to $8 billion (thus far this year, from July 1 through November 29, the cumulated deficit is $3,174,532, 247).

"In the two year period of peace and high income from July 1, 1948 to June 30, 1950, we shall have raised the public debt by at least $8 billion, and it then will total more than $260 billion.

"At the present income level, with neither retrenchment nor increased taxes, the momentum of present federal spending will pile up another deficit of from $7 billion to $9 billion more in the fiscal year beginning next July 1. Then the debt in peace time would equal or surpass its war time peak.

"When Congress meets in January, it must make the vital decision of whether to:

- "1. Increase taxes by more than $7 billion;
- "2. Retrench, and, as I shall show in this statement, this can be done within a balanced budget, without impairing either our security or any essential function, or

"3. Authorize expenditures totaling more than $7 billion in excess of revenue and go gayly along the economic primrose path of indefinite deficit financing.

"Deliberate adoption of the deficit spending course in an era of peace and high prosperity will shatter public confidence in federal securities at a time when the debt is more than a quarter of a trillion dollars.

"The deliberate embracing of deficit financing in a period of near-peak national income is even more alarming in view of the administration's apparent determination to urge upon Congress the adoption of still more new federal spending ventures of huge and unpredictable cost."

Senator Byrd then proceeds to outline how a balanced budget of not to exceed $36 billion dollars can be achieved. Even this is four times the maximum expenditures in the highest recent pre-war annual national budget. Such a budget can be carried out, he declares without impairing or endangering any essential function of government.

In great detail, he sets forth figures to prove his assertions and declares,

"On this basis of more than 16 years spent in closely analyzing and studying federal fiscal policies and the nation's economy, I am unable to escape the conclusion that a balanced budget within the ability of the people to pay is an absolute requirement for the preservation of the government's solvency and the stability of our economy. Without solvency and stability, our form of government cannot survive.

"At the same time I am confident that achievement of a sound balanced budget would reaffirm the confidence of the public in prospects for our continued solvency and strengthen the private enterprise system which is basic to our form of government."

One Thing Santa Just Can't Give

NEW YORK—(AP)—There isn't a darn thing Santa Claus can throw my way this Christmas.

For all I care the old boy can get stuck in a chimney in Des Moines. I'm not bothering to hang up my sock, because there isn't a thing in Saint Nick's bag of tricks I can use. The one thing I'd like even Santa Claus can't give. I want him to make time stand still and keep a girl growing older—and from going away.

The girl is half past two, her name is Nina, and everything about her is wholly wonderful. Even her nose runs in a nice way.

I can brag about her with a clear conscience because she isn't mine, except to borrow on an hour's lend-lease arrangements with her parents two or three times a week. That is my privilege as Godfather.

When first I saw her she was just a moist, bald-headed ball of protoplasm that smelled of milk and made small noises like a puppy. She stubbornly refused to make baby talk and disdained the English language altogether until she was ready to use complete sentences.

One day the phone rang and as her parents leaped to answer it she looked up from her play pen and said gravely:

"I'll get it. I'll get it." It was in this way we learned for sure that Nina was a genius. Until then we were just going on blind faith. Now she is a flaxen-haired, sturdy-legged child with a mind and vocabulary of her own. She is a kind child, is that Jack fell down and broke his crown while going up the hill with Jill to fetch a pail of water.

Every night she wants to hear this nursery adventure again, and as soon as Jack falls down she tells her father:

"You get doctor. Make him well."

I am her steady storyteller. And all this year as Nina has grown older I have been growing younger. And it has been a happy, happy year—too good to go on, I guess.

The other weekend her father and mother, George and Helen Camp Palmer, a young newspaper couple, got an assignment to go to Italy. They will be gone for three years. Nina doesn't know Rome from Rochester, but she has been told she is going to take a trip on a big boat. And she is so excited that she is beginning to lose interest in Jack and Jill. Whenever she sees a tug boat by on the East River she says:

"There Nina's boat. Tell me about big boat."

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Now Hospitals Are "Banks," Too!

Doc Simpson was saying, "Hospitals are building up 'bone banks' that work just like blood banks. When bone is needed, the surgeon takes one from a refrigerator, cuts it to the right shape and simply splices it in."

"You doctors are sure making progress," I say, "but tell me, are any of the patients fussy about whose bone they're getting?"

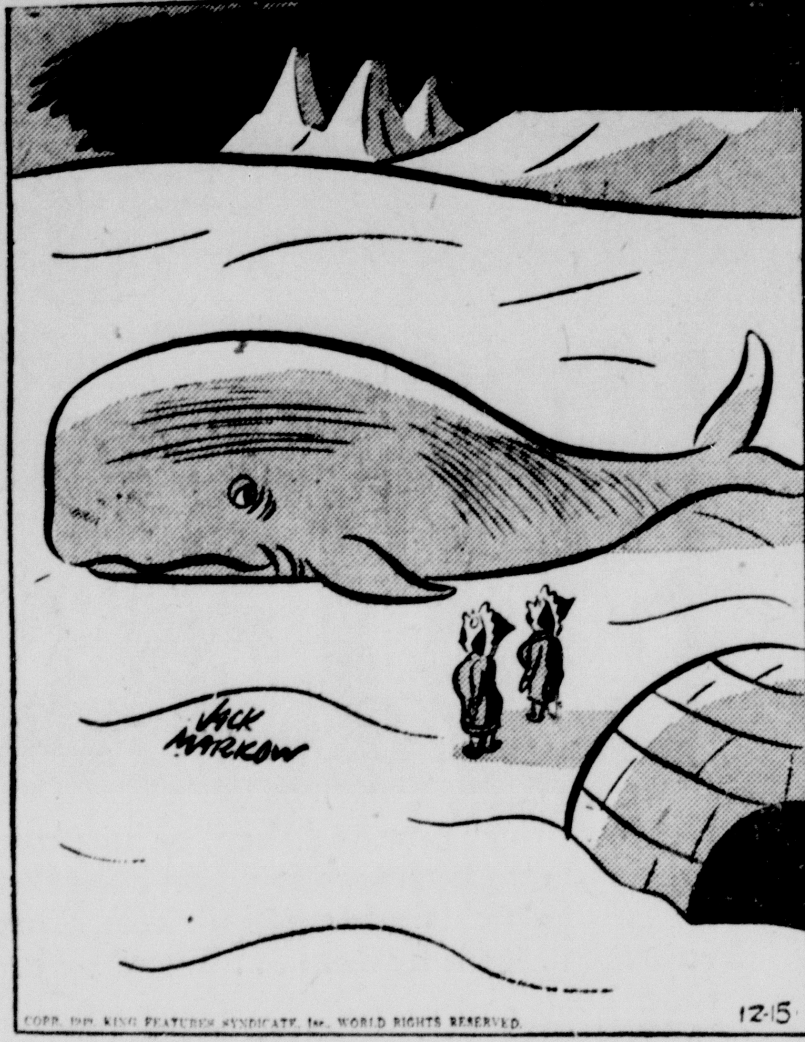

"No sir!" replies Doc. "No more than they worry about whose blood they get. No one yet asked for a bone from a man who went to the same school or church he did."

From where I sit, it would be a better world if we were half as willing to accept other people's ideas and tastes, as we seem to be willing to accept their bone and blood. There'll always be differences. Some like buttermilk, others would rather have a sparkling glass of temperate beer. But underneath we're pretty much the same—deserving each other's respect and tolerance!

Laff-A-Day

"I wish I had a little parsley to dress it up."

Recently, while her parents were shopping, I took her on a farewell visit to the Central Park Zoo. She said goodbye to the monkeys, wanted to climb in and pet the tigers, jeered at the "lazy seal" that wouldn't go into the water. But most of all she loved the pigeons because they came and pecked peanuts from her hand.

Then we bought a balloon and hailed a cab home. On the way she turned to me with a luminous smile and said:

"Hal, I sleepy."

And she stretched out comfortably on the seat, put her feet in my lap, and dozed off. All the rest of the way I kept thinking, "Lord, Lord, can't you let it stay this way for a long time?"

There was so much I had to tell her—all about Cinderella and the three bears and the little boy who put his finger in the dyke and saved Holland. But now somebody in Italy will tell her all these fine stories, and probably get them all mixed up in the telling.

Three days after Christmas she'll be gone, leaving me a God-father in absentia. When I see her again she'll be almost six and greet me with a polite "buon giorno" instead of "hi, Hal!" How can I believe in Santa Claus—this year.

Ballots Impounded In City Election

COLUMBUS, Dec. 15—(AP)—All ballots cast in the recent Crestline city election have been ordered impounded by Secretary of State Charles F. Sweeney.

Sweeney ordered the Crawford County Board of Elections to impound the votes until Attorney General Herbert S. Duffy rules on a technicality which will decide who was elected mayor.

Sweeney explained: Albert A. Spooner, a Democrat, was the only candidate listed in the race for mayor. However, the name of Grover Weis for mayor was written in on some ballots in the Republican and independent columns.

Votes for Weis in both columns greater than those for Spooner in the Democratic column.

The use of "tin" cans for holding preserved foods did not become common until late in the 19th century.

Body of Pastor Found; Believed A Suicide

CANTON, Ga., Dec. 15—(AP)—State troopers reported today they found the body of the Rev. Shelton Brock, a Church of God pastor, in a wooded section near Ball Ground, Ga.

Troopers said the minister's automobile had been driven about three miles into a wooded section. The death, they said, apparently was a suicide.

Driving Courses In Schools Aid Traffic Safety

Training Given
In 8,000 Schools
Getting Results

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE WASHINGTON—(AP)—Safety experts rate "teen-age driver education as the No. 1 remedy for nation's appalling toll of auto accidents—some 32,000 persons killed and 1,200,000 injured annually.

Norman Damon, vice president of the Automotive Safety Foundations, regards the high school driver training program as "the most important single hope for better driver performance."

Damon says "there has been more postwar progress in school driver training than in any other field of traffic accident prevention."

Lou E. Holland, president of the American Automobile Association, says "extension of driver training to every high school in America would go far toward solving the automobile safety problem."

Holland cites a survey in Delaware showing that untrained drivers were involved in about five times as many accidents as school-trained drivers.

In 8,000 Schools
Some 400,000 students in 8,000 public schools participated in driver education during the 1948-1949 school year, according to reports to the National Education Association. A number of parochial high schools also have driver instruction courses.

Driver instruction started in the public schools in the early 1930s and has been expanding steadily.
However, it reaches only about 10 to 15 per cent of the boys and girls of an age for such training.

There are about 26,000 high schools in this country. The number of high schools offering complete driver education courses recently ranged from 15 in Maine to 600 in Illinois. Practice automobiles used in high schools throughout the country numbered more than 3,100, most of them lent to the schools by automobile dealers.

Systematic instruction of young people is rated the most promising attack on the auto accident problem for two reasons:

1. The very large percentage of young drivers who are involved in fatal accidents.

2. Education of the annual crop of would-be auto operators promises widespread increase in accident avoidance in the years to come.

Dangerous Age

Accident reports from 28 states in 1948 showed that 31 per cent, or nearly one in every three, of the drivers involved in all fatal accidents were under 25 years of age. One fourth of all auto injuries occur in the driver-age bracket of 15 to 24 years.

The safety commission of the National Education Association says a survey indicates 14 states have students governing the teaching of specific types of safety education such as general safety, home safety, driver education and fire prevention.

The commission reports that while educators generally favor extension of the school driver-safety training courses, they oppose laws making such courses compulsory. They contend that school principals and teachers are in a better position than legislators to determine topics which each class should study.

Educators, meeting this fall in the first national conference on high school driver education, recommended that driver training be offered as a regular part of the curriculum, preferably covering a full semester, with both classroom and behind-the-wheel instruction scheduled in the same manner as other classes.

Program's Purpose
The educators recommended that the minimum total time for a complete program in driver education should be from 45 to 60 hours. That would include a minimum of 30 hours of classroom instruction and an average minimum time of six hours per student behind the wheel.

Several organizations have been helping the high schools carry out their courses. Among these are the national safety council, the American Automobile Association, the association of casualty and surety executives and the center for safety education of New York University.

The American Automobile Association and the association of casualty and surety executives (accident prevention division) help train teachers for safety driving instruction, prepare textbooks and other publications for safety education, provide films for schools and extend other forms of advisory assistance.

The inter-industry highway safety committee is now putting special emphasis on safe driving in young people during the Christmas and new year holiday season. The committee sponsors a program of "Father-and-son" and

"Dad-and-daughter" agreements under which children pledge to abide by rules of good driving while using the family car.

The inter-industry committee is composed of representatives from the automobile manufacturers association, the national automobile dealers association and the rubber manufacturers association.

It was established in response to an appeal by President Truman to encourage all those connected with the automotive industries to support sound highway safety activities in states and communities.

Hamilton Police To Be Reorganized

HAMILTON, Dec. 15 —(AP)—
The city police force is due for a reorganization as a result of a

The five officers involved in the accusation were exonerated yester-

"severely censured."

Seventeen New Members Initiated At Auxiliary Annual Christmas Meeting

The American Legion Auxiliary held its annual Christmas party and initiation Wednesday evening at the Legion Hall with a good attendance of members present, who brought with them a beautifully wrapped gift which will be sent to the OSSO Home, Xenia at Christmas.

The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Michael Helfrich in ritualistic form, during which the usual reports were given by Mrs. Edward Sexton secretary and Mrs. Robert Creamer treasurer. Mrs. Charlene Malone re-habilitation chairman gave a splendid report and also outlined plans for the Christmas party at the Veterans' Hospital, Chillicothe, December 20. Mrs. Norris Highfield Child Welfare chairman, announced plans for Christmas baskets for needy families, and Mrs. Chester Clay gave an Americanism report. Mrs. Emerson Chapman gave a community service report. Other splendid reports were turned in on dinners served in the past few weeks by the efficient committees. Plans were made to serve a banquet to Boy Scouts in January.

It was voted to buy a Health Bond and a generous contribution was made to the Community Chest Fund and to send 400 combs to Crile Hospital, Cleveland.

Mrs. Emerson Chapman, past Seventh District President was in charge of the initiation ceremonies and she was assisted by the officers of the organization when seventeen new members were received into membership. Both Mrs. Chapman and the president made speeches of welcome to the new members and a social hour followed.

Dainty refreshments were served from a beautifully appointed tea table lighted with white candles, featuring a red cloth and centered with a miniature Christ-

Mrs. Graham Is Hostess To Progress Club

Mrs. Charles Graham was a charming hostess for the regular meeting of the Progress Club of Jeffersonville.

Mrs. Orlyn Wiseman presided over the business session.

A festive atmosphere prevailed in the home in keeping with the approaching Yuletide season.

Miss Louise Fultz, in her gracious manner, presented the paper "Carols and Hymns of Christmas", and she said in part, "Because of song, man can rightfully praise the Lord."

She so beautifully told the hidden stories that breathed life into the Christian faith and preserved to us religious themes to a festive air.

The group sang the Christmas carols following this delightful paper, with Miss Fultz at the piano.

Mrs. Max Morrow presented the paper "Yuletide in Many Lands." Her appreciative audience were enthralled with the fascinating story of the native customs in other countries at Yuletide. All the warmth and color of the Yuletide season in America, is the traditional Christmas tree which says, "Peace On Earth, Good Will Toward Men." She depicted these native customs by colored slides.

The hostess served a delicious repast in keeping with the festive season during the social hour.

Mrs. Jessie Leasure and Mrs. John L. McKillip were welcome guests.

Miss Mary Lee Carr, student at the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, will arrive Friday to spend the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carr.

Personals

Mrs. J. C. Doneghy arrived from St. Louis, Missouri, Wednesday, to be the over-Christmas house guest of Mrs. Stacy S. Bor-en.

Miss Eleanor Leiter, who was called to Van Wert, Saturday by the sudden death of her mother, Mrs. C. A. Leiter, returned Thursday.

Club Enjoys Christmas Party At Gossard Home

The Bloomingburg Wednesday Club, with twenty-one members present, assembled at the home of Miss Kathryn Gossard, on Wednesday for the annual Christmas party with six guests included.

A delicious covered dish luncheon was served at one o'clock and Miss Gossard had as her assisting hostess, Mrs. John Groff.

Each room throughout the home had its own individual Christmas decorations, with a lighted tree, and Christmas scenes lighted with red tapers. The long table in the dining room, from which the tempting viands were served, depicted a clever winter scene, flanked with red candles, which was further carried out on small tables seating the guests for the pleasant luncheon hour.

The afternoon was highlighted with the exchange of gifts around the lighted tree and was followed with a brief business session, pre-

They were congratulated by those who called during the day, to extend congratulations, which made the event more enjoyable and was greatly appreciated by the couple.

Postal Employees Christmas Party

The Bloomingburg postal employees enjoyed their Christmas party at the Fayette Drive Inn near Madison Mills Wednesday evening. A delicious fried chicken dinner was enjoyed and later the group was entertained at the home of Mrs. Zoe Garinger which was beautifully decorated for the occasion with gay Christmas suggestions and gifts were exchanged. Those attending were, Mrs. Donna Emery, Mrs. Kathryn Foster, Mrs. Loren Foster, Ernest Howmon and Mrs. Garinger.

Youngsters usually like mild fish flakes added to creamed carrots and peas. Flavor the cream sauce with a little grated onion and minced parsley.

George Spettigue, and Mrs. Robert Meriweather was the guest speaker using the interesting topic "The Day They Gave Babies Away," which was appreciated intensely by her audience. Bookwalter Aid Turkey Dinner Christmas Party

Mrs. Harry Kessler entertained twenty-three members of the Bookwalter Aid, and included six guests at the annual Christmas meeting, which was preceded by a delicious covered dish turkey dinner.

The older members of the society were honored by being seated at one long table in the dining room, centered with Christmas decorations. Others were at small tables placed informally throughout the rooms, which were radiant with Yule tide suggestions.

During the afternoon meeting, presided over by Mrs. Charles Seibert, Mrs. Marie Reid was devotional leader, reading scripture from Matthew. Prayer by Mrs. Gertrude Lampe closed the worship period. Mrs. Marvin Stockwell gave the secretary's report, and a nice sum was realized from the birthday collection. Programs for the new year were given the members, and it was decided to send pointsettias to shut-ins and those who are ill are to be remembered with fruit and cards.

A communication was read from the Rapp family for flower sent by the society. A group of Christmas carols were sung by the group and Mrs. Dolly Mowery and Miss Dorothy Mowery were welcomed as new members.

Later a gift exchange was enjoyed and a social hour followed. Guests included were Miss Lena Riley, Mrs. Artless Shepard and Mrs. Jesse Garringer of Jamestown, Mrs. Chess Shepard of Sedalia, Mrs. Webster Kessler and daughter and Mrs. Robert Miller and daughters of Columbus. Mrs. Kessler was assisted in the hospitalities by Mrs. Russell Garringer.

Gifts were brought to the party, which will be given to patients in the several rest homes in this city.

A short Christmas program was given and Christmas carols were sung by the group. The gift of a lovely silver pitcher was presented Father Otto Guenther.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, Dec. 15—(P)—When Congress returns in 1950 you can expect a repetition of what happened this year: a filibuster.

The Truman administration is going to try for an early vote on the bill to set up an FEPC (Fair Employment Practices Commission).

The result? Pretty sure zero. The FEPC bill would forbid an employer to discriminate against a job-seeker because of his race, color or religious belief.

It's part of President Truman's civil rights program. Other parts of it call for federal laws to outlaw lynching and the poll tax.

And the result if the Trumanites try to put through those other parts of the program? Pretty sure zero, too.

Mr. Truman took a strong stand on the civil rights program in the 1948 elections in which he was elected president and the Democrats won control of Congress.

But the Trumanite Democrats lost control of Congress when, shortly after Congress opened this year, they tried to clear the way for bringing up a civil rights bill and thus fulfill Mr. Truman's campaign pledges.

At that point the southern Democrats, deeply embittered by the civil rights program, split off from the Truman Democrats and filibustered. They did it so successfully that they prevented any civil rights bill from being considered in the Senate in 1949.

What happened as a result of that filibuster will have an important effect on what happens in 1950.

Before the filibuster started, this was the situation in the Senate: there was no limit on debate—or a filibuster—unless two-thirds of the senators on the floor voted to stop it.

(And, of course, unless a filibuster could be stopped the Senate could not reach a point of voting on the measure which was being filibustered.)

But under the arrangement then in effect if only 90 or 80 or 70 senators were present on the floor, two-thirds of them could stop the filibuster. But, before the 1949 filibuster was over, this happened:

The Senate, with Republicans joining the southern Democrats, made this rule for the future:

Now a filibuster can't be stopped unless two-thirds, of the total 96 senators vote to stop it, whether or not all 96 are present on the floor. That's tougher to get than just two-thirds, plus one, of those merely present at any voting time.

That's what the Trumanites face in 1950 if they try to bring up the FEPC bill and a filibuster starts.

Ohio Pastors Plan Meeting

Expect 2,000 From All Over Ohio

Most of the Fayette County ministers will attend the 31 annual Ohio pastors convention, sponsored by the Ohio Council of Churches, which will be held in Columbus January 30 to Feb. 2.

Dr. B. F. Lamb, council president, said plans were being made to accommodate more than 2,000 pastors — nearly half of the Protestant clergymen in the state.

All sessions are scheduled for Columbus' Memorial Hall.

One of the top-ranking Protestant churchmen of recent years, Dr. E. Stanley Jones, is scheduled for two addresses during the course of the four-day convention.

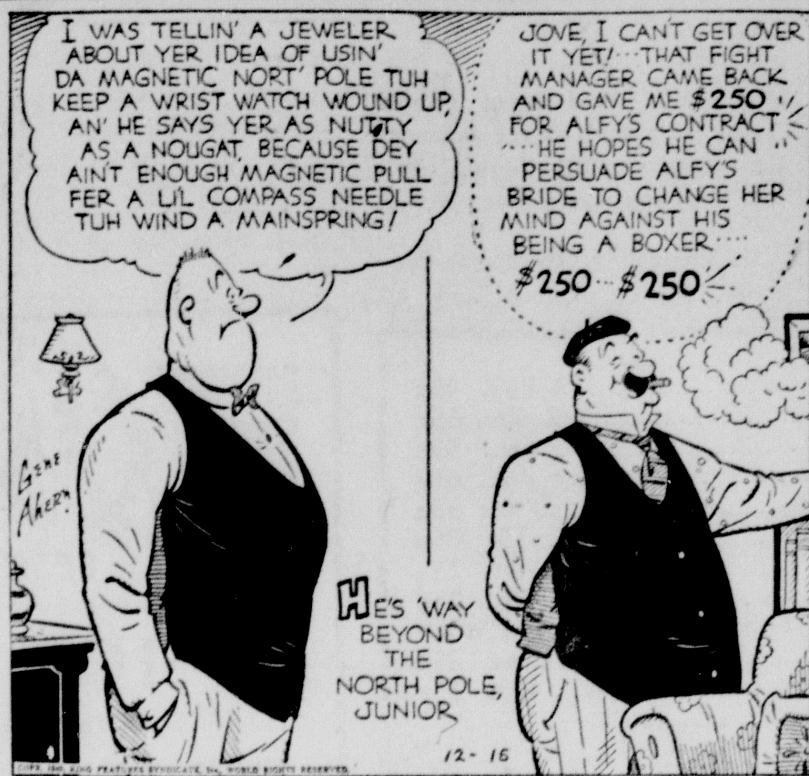

The world-renowned Methodist missionary, evangelist and author will speak the first afternoon of

Some senators are so set against any limit on Senate debate that they might vote against stopping a filibuster even though they might be willing to vote for FEPC once the filibuster was over.

If the Trumanites lose on a civil rights issue during the congressional session in 1950, they can use it as a campaign issue in the congressional elections later in 1950—to get more Trumanites elected. Particularly among Negro voters.

the convention on "The United Church of America." His subject on the second afternoon will be "The Protestant Advance."

Dr. Russell Humbert, a Methodist clergyman of Youngstown, has been designated chairman of the 1950 convention. He will preside at all sessions and will conduct worship services at each.

Among the high-spots of the 39 convention, Dr. Lamb said, will be the annual fellowship supper, scheduled for the second evening of the meeting, and the finals of the state-wide Prince of Peace declamation contest, sponsored annually by the Ohio Council of Churches.

In addition, Dr. Lamb announced, two other dinners, denominational luncheons and a tea for pastors' wives are planned. The convention will conduct 4 business sessions in all.

To Wind Up CROP Drive In County

With several townships yet to report, leaders of the campaign to collect money or bulk farm products from Fayette County residents were hopeful of winding the drive here soon.

This was the report on CROP activities in Fayette County made today by Rev. Allan W. Caley, vice chairman of the drive in the county.

Rev. Caley said he is anxious to get the Fayette County collections completed immediately so that there is no interference with yule plans of residents.

All those who want to make contributions—either cash or corn—are requested to get in touch with CROP leaders in this county.

The leaders include Rev. Caley, Father Otto Guenther, Rev. Guy Tucker, W. W. Montgomery, A. Ford Ervin and Harry Rains.

Corn collected in Fayette County will be used to help fill the nation's quota of 3,500 railroad carloads of products.

The food will be sent to overseas needy. There are nearly 900,000 destitute and homeless persons in the Middle East and thousands of refugees in the British and American zones in Germany who are in need of the food.

Eighteen other counties in addition to Fayette are participating in the state-wide campaign for CROP. Other counties in the state are shipping soybeans, wheat or milk.

No Evidence Of Vikings Is Found in Ohio

Smithsonian Agent
Say Ross County
Finds Not Old

Smithsonian Institution scientists have rejected a new report of evidence that Vikings, or Norsemen, lived in Ohio before Christopher Columbus visited this continent.

Arlington H. Mallery, of Washington D. C., caused quite a stir among geologists, historians and archeologists as well as some others, that he claimed he had uncovered relics in Ross County of a viking expedition dating back more than 500 years.

Smithsonian has placed on file a report of on-the-spot investigation declaring the relics probably date back to the early 1800's, and had nothing to do with vikings.

The report was prepared by Staff Scientist Ralph S. Solecki, who visited Ohio.

Solecki also rejected Mallery's contention that he had found the site of viking iron furnaces in the vicinity of Spruce Hill, near Bournville. Solecki said he traced those pits back to a Gen. Massie, who died in 1831.

He said Mallery also has mistaken the remains of American Indian signal fires for relics of an ancient viking camp site.

Mallery first made his sensational claims a number of months ago, and two weeks ago he called several scientists in for an inspection of his finds and possible confirmation of his claims.

Among the first to pronounce the evidence of "Vikings" erroneous, was Raymond S. Baby, curator of Archaeology, Ohio State Museum.

Others followed suit until Mallery apparently stands alone in his claims.

Two of the so called "iron furnaces", which had all the earmarks of being lime kilns in use 100 years or more ago, are located along Paint Creek near Austin.

Some of the furnaces were lined with bricks made of clay, and this was regarded as positive evidence that they were not built by white men 500 years ago, but more than probable 100 to 125 years ago.

Cleveland Woman Slugged, Robbed

CLEVELAND, Dec. 15 —(P)—The wife of business columnist John W. Love of the Cleveland

Press was slugged last night by a gunman. Then the thug robbed her of $4 and grabbed $40 from her woman companion.

This was the latest incident in stepped up attacks on unescorted women in Cleveland. It came less than 12 hours after an order by Police Chief George J. Matowitz to his department to be extra vigilant in protecting women at night.

The woman, Mrs. Margaret Love, 56, was treated for a laceration on the head. She and her companion, who declined to give her name to police were about to their car on a parking lot at Shaker Square, on Cleveland's east side.

School Bus Driver Must Pay Damages

COLUMBUS, Dec. 15 —(P)—The Ohio Supreme Court affirmed Jackson County court decisions holding that Herman Brust, a school bus owner and operator, must pay the parents of Willard Culwell, a pupil, $4,000 damages as a result of his death.

Brust, operating the school bus for the Beaver school district, unloaded a number of pupils from his bus near their homes. But he started the vehicle before the Culwell boy, not yet seven years old, got safely across the road. The boy was struck by an automobile going in the opposite direction from the bus.

New Pipeline To Supply Oil To Ohio Points

Mississippi River Crossing Proves Herculean Task

Work of building a new 30 inch pipeline to carry crude oil from the Longview, Texas, fields to Lima, will be completed in 1950, and work of laying the mile-long crossing of the Mississippi River at Mayersville, Miss., was finished this week.

It is the longest water jump of the 1,000 mile Mid-Valley crude oil pipeline now being constructed.

A few years ago when the "Big Inch" line, which passes through Fayette County, was laid across the "Father of Waters", it was one of the first pipelines to cross the big stream.

The Mid-Valley project required two separate lines of 20-inch pipe, which was lowered from barges to rest in twin furrows 15 feet under the maximum depth of the bed of the river.

For the first time, a dual river crossing has been installed with lines bowed in opposite directions, one line curving upstream and the other downstream, with the shore ends of the pipes within a few feet of each other.

A joint project of Sun Oil Company and The Standard Oil Company (Ohio) the $56,000,000 Mid-Valley Pipeline Company's new facility, with its tanks, terminals and pump stations, is expected to be ready to pour 150,000 barrels of crude oil per day into Ohio refineries by the fall of 1950. The pipeline is a common carrier.

For much of its distance, the line is 22-inch pipe, spanning hills and burrowing in river beds, cutting across cotton fields, wilderness and farm land in this huge new investment to provide more petroleum products for the people of Ohio and the neighboring states. The new pipeline will assure both Sun Oil and Sohio refineries in Ohio sufficient crude oil transportation facilities to meet the needs of their big expansion programs in the state.

Sun Oil has doubled the capacity of its refinery at Toledo, at a cost of more than $20,000,000 and Sohio is investing $34,500,000 in the expansion and modernization of its refineries at Lima and Cleveland.

The Mid-Valley line will also serve Sohio's refinery at Latonia, Kentucky near the Ohio River, and existing lines tie-in with Mid-Valley at Lima to service the refineries at Cleveland and Toledo.

The pipeline crossings of the Ohio, Miami, Kentucky, Cumberland and Red Rivers have already been completed in the gigantic project. Mid-Valley merely pulled completed pipe from one shore to the other in these crossings.

The crossing of the Mississippi River was another matter. Here, the combination of a six-mile current, the river's width and the fact that the Mississippi's bottom is constantly shifting, made a rough operation.

A 10,000-horse-power suction dredger, The McWilliams Dredging Company's "Caribbean", biggest on the river, was used as an underwater ditch digger. Its gigantic "egg beater", to churn up the bottom of the river, has a cutter weighing 125 tons.

When sweeping the river bottom, its over-size centrifugal pump sucked up an average of 50,000 cubic yards of mud each 24-day of work. This silt dumped through conveyor pipes 200 yards downstream and off channel, leaving a ditch 15 feet in the muck bottom some 30 feet below the river surface.

Cleveland Executive To Graduate From OSU

COLUMBUS, Dec. 15 — (AP) — Cleveland building material executive will be graduated from Ohio State University Friday—35 years after he first enrolled as a freshman.

Arnold G. Breckling, president of the Breckling Coal and Supply Co., in Shaker Heights, will receive the degree of Bachelor of Mechanical Engineering during the autumn quarter commencement exercises.

Autos Headed Toward Record

Expect 4,800,000
To Be Produced

Approximately 650 new automobiles out of a total of approximately 4,800,000 units which will have been built by the end of this year will be in this country.

In Fayette County August led with 83 new cars sold, and December was moving slowly with some 19 cars sold up to December 15.

During the period January 1 to November 1, 4,014,061 new cars were registered in the U. S. Should totals for the months of November and December continue at a rate above 400,000 units a month, which appears likely, the year's total will approach the five million mark. This would be an all-time industry record, the previous high point of 4,587,400 established in 1929 being expected to be passed.

Preliminary returns for November indicate totals may approximate 450,000 new passenger cars. The total for October, which had been expected to set a new post-war monthly record, ended at 465,765 units, to become the second best post-war month in the automotive industry's history.

Total new truck registrations should end up just short of the million mark for the year. Up to November 1, total new truck registrations amounted to 803,482, bolstered by registrations of 86,398 new trucks in October. Should registrations continue at a rate of approximately 80,000 units a month for November and December the total new truck registrations for 1949 should be approximately 960,000 units.

Hilty to Assist In Book Selection

Once more, Superintendent W. J. Hilty, of county schools, will go to Columbus to attend a session of the Ohio Teachers and Pupils Reading Circle.

On Friday afternoon, he will meet with other members of the board of control of the Circle to draw up a list of 73 books for the 1950-51 school year.

From this list, school boards and PTAs will purchase books for use by pupils in the first through twelfth grades.

Any books that appear on the list are available at considerable price reductions to the school.

To promote acquaintance with these books, the Circle grants certificates to those pupils who read a certain number of them.

Last month, Hilty worked with the board in selecting books for the teachers.

ABORT THAT COLD
If You Also Use FOLEY'S

NOT ALL COLDS are stopped by antihistamine drugs. One type cold that can't be stopped by antihistamines is the cold in which a cough and sore throat develop. For such a cold, use Foley's Honey & Tar; the continued use of antihistamines exclusively can lead to needless discomfort, delayed recovery—maybe to serious complications.

Warning! If you NOW have a sore throat or cough or one has developed despite taking antihistamines...

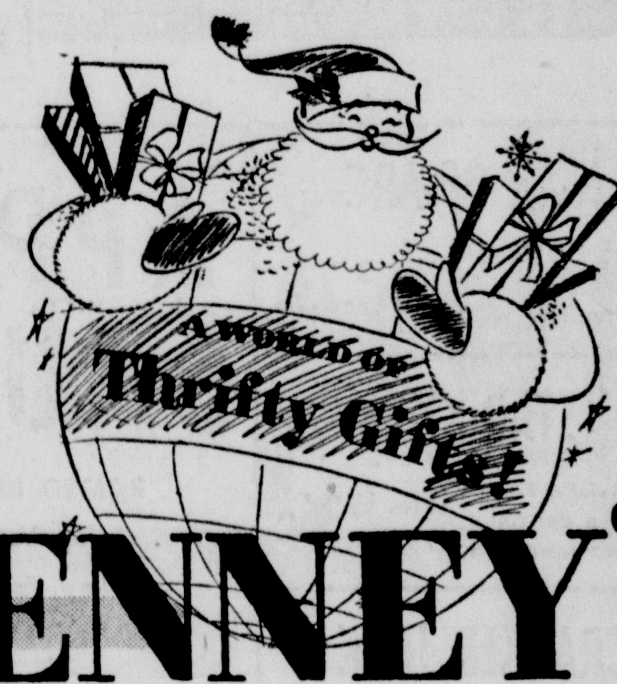

START FOLEY'S QUICK! If antihistamines have failed you, they evidently are not what you need. So make up for 24 to 72 hours lost; switch at once to Foley's. Permeate your system with Foley's cold-aborting terpenes and pine tar oil which combat secondary-infection germs causing sore throat, bronchial congestion, coughing. If you haven't been taking antihistamines but have a sore throat or cough, take Foley's to ease your throat, check coughing. Don't delay and let that cough become something worse.

TAKE FOLEY'S whenever you feel a cold coming on. DON'T RISK HALF-TREATING your cold or treating it wrong! Take antihistamines as well as time-tested Foley's. Each does a job the other can't do. Take both and you have a far better chance to abort cold FOR BEST RESULTS, get the big economy $1 bottle. Contains plenty; encourage you to take enough to permeate your system with the cold-aborting ingredients in Foley's Honey & Tar. At all druggists.

Sees Dangers Lurking About Christmas Tree

Safety Council Asks That Precautions Be Taken

To keep an accident from dimming the lights of holiday happiness on your Christmas tree during the festive celebration this year, the National Safety Council today offered the following hints:

Cut the base of the tree diagonally and cover it with water as soon as possible after purchasing the tree.

Keep the tree indoors as short a time as possible, with the base always under water. Replenish the water frequently and increase the humidity of the room to help keep the tree from drying out.

The average user will find it practicable to flameproof Christmas trees with chemical solutions. Consult the local fire department or other fire authorities before using any commercial or home-made solutions. Be wary of trees which are sold as "fireproof."

Locate trees away from fireplaces, powerful electric lights, radiators or other sources of heat, and do not use candles for decorations. Keep tinsel and other metallic decorations away from light sockets.

Dispose of Christmas gift wrappings at once, and use only artificial "snow" and decorations of the flameproofed or non-combustible type.

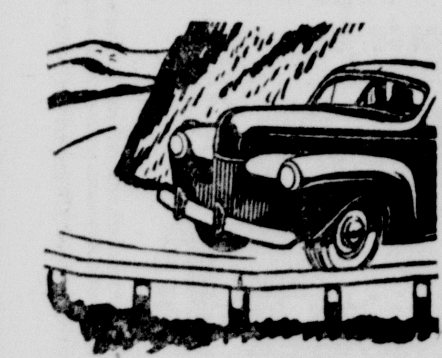

Use lights and wirings bearing the label of Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc., and check wirings for defects and loose sockets.

When no one is to be in the room for any length of time, turn off the tree lights. Since too many tree light circuits in one outlet may overload the house wiring and blow a fuse, distribute the load among several outlets. Never substitute a penny nor an oversized fuse for a blown fuse.

In all places of public assembly, locate trees away from stairs and other exits, and station competent watchers with fire extinguishers or water pails near-

Dispose of old trees in fire-safe areas outdoors—not in furnaces, stoves or fireplaces, because trees burn with almost explosive violence.

In case of fire, call the fire department immediately.

Desire for Pension Not New, Says Ching

Cyrus Ching believes the idea that American workers are "looking for something for nothing" in demanding pensions is wrong.

Ching, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, explained, "our people are activated by a fear complex over what may happen to them or to their families and loved ones if they get sick or are unable to work. If we ignore these fears and this problem, we are making a mistake."

The problem of pensions and health welfare insurance for workers, he added, "is one that has been with us a long time" and not one brought suddenly into negotiations by labor unions.

Ching told more than 800 business and industry leaders at a dinner here last night that the "freedom that we enjoy here means adaptability" and that "adaptability applies to this matter of pension and welfare funds."

Ching urged labor and management to get together and talk about meeting the problem through increasing federal social security to where it will be "adequate and equitable."

Governor Praised For Gambling War

CHARDON, Dec. 15 —(AP)—Churchmen of Chardon congratulated Gov. Frank J. Lausche for his efforts to close the Pettibone Club, a Geauga County gambling joint.

Nearly 80 pastors and members signed a letter to Lausche at a meeting here. They also asked him to maintain his drive on other Ohio gambling centers. The group is called the Churchmen's League.

Last Friday the club refused to obey a state closing order. But in Columbus today, Attorney General Herbert S. Duffy was studying a request for an injunction against the place.

Albert A. Woldman, state industrial relations director, asked Duffy for the injunction. He wants the place shut down as a public nuisance.

Termites, when eaten, are said to taste like roasted chestnuts.

Time To Mail Greeting Cards

Cancellations Here
Ahead of 1948

"Start mailing your Christmas cards," Postmaster W. E. Passmore advised Fayette Countyans Thursday.

Greetings for out-of-state should be in the collection boxes now he said. Cards for local delivery should be mailed at least the Thursday before Christmas.

Extensive preparations have been made to handle the expected record flood of Yuletide mail. But the postmaster warned procrastinators that extended bad weather could snarl deliveries and leave a mountain of undelivered Christmas cheer on Christmas Eve.

"It's better for your light-hearted Christmas card to arrive a few days early," he counseled, "than for it to limp in the day after Christmas."

To date December mailings at the Washington C. H. Post Office exceed those of last year.

The postmaster warned that Christmas cards mailed with 1 1/2 cent stamps are being returned stamped "Insufficient Postage."

The rate for unsealed third-class mail is now 2 cents.

Cards sent third class may not be forwarded or returned, without payment of additional postage. Postmaster Passmore stated that large numbers of 1949 Christmas cards are liable to end up in the Dead Letter Office due to incomplete or incorrect addresses.

"If you're not sure of the address, a 3 cent stamp entitles your Christmas greeting to first-class postal service. The card will be forwarded from one address to another, or if the envelope bears your return address, the card will be returned to you if the address can't be located, without additional charge for postage, the postmaster said.

New Manager Picked For Goodsell Store

Jerry L. Humes of Lima is the new manager of the Goodsell Brothers Inc. store in Washington C. H. He is on the job learning his new duties and after the first of the year will relieve Mrs. Belmont McNoldy of the management duties.

Mrs. McNoldy expects to move to Piqua, where her husband is associated in a business, sometime after the first of the year. Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Humes and daughter Pamela have moved to 602 Columbus Avenue.

One Staff Nurse Still Sought Here

One desk still remains empty at the Fayette County Board of Health.

The reason is that no one has been found to fill the place that Mrs. James Cooper, staff nurse, vacated when she resigned a few weeks ago.

Miss Gretchen Darlington, head nurse, said that no applications or inquiries for the job have been received to date and urged that anyone who is interested should contact the health department at the Court House immediately.

For a while this week, the deserted atmosphere around the department was increased when all three staff nurses traveled to Indianapolis, Ind., to attend a regional conference of the National Organization of Public Health Nurses.

Miss Darlington, Mrs. George Smith and Mrs. Joseph Colegrove attended a section meeting of the conference Tuesday that dealt with problems in administering public health in schools.

Boy's Head Sticks In Cake Pan Hat

CHICAGO, Dec. 15 — (AP) — Michael Thomas Sullivan, 3, tried his mother's new two-piece cake pan on his head for size yesterday and was up to his neck in trouble.

Michael removed the bottom from the pan and put the rim—which he thought made a fine helmet—over his head. The pan didn't come off as easily as it slipped on.

Cost of Security Set At Billions

Three-ply Program Outlined by CED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15—(P)—The Committee for Economic Development (CED) estimated today national security will cost at least $20,000,000,000 a year for years to come.

In the face of this costly cold war defense, it urged definite action to: (1) safeguard supremacy in the republic, (2) strengthen long-range security and (3) protect individual freedom.

The CED, an organization of business executives, said the $20,000,000,000 estimate on the annual cost of security for the next several years embraces several items. Military defense is the big one, followed by rearming of non-Communist nations, European recovery spending, atomic energy development, U. S. broadcasts overseas, and much of the government's diplomacy and intelligence work.

A principal recommendation was transference of civilian leadership into the whole security program. The CED criticized preparedness planning as being "neither efficient nor in balance."

The report said a powerful military machine can dominate the economy and, unless held in balance, "can destroy a free economy."

While urging continued strong action against subversive activities, it called for caution in the handling of "loyalty" inquiries.

In summary, the report stated: "The fear of war may dominate our lives for a generation;" security outlays, abroad and at home, can impose a drain on the nation's resources and a strain on the free American society; and that it is time to bulwark the country against this hazard to its liberties.

"Security measures, uncurbed by the requirements of freedom, can undermine our free institutions," the business group said.

CED was organized during the war to plan ahead for economic growth and high employment.

year-end bonuses to the city's 140 employees.

Full-time employees will receive $75, part time employees $37.50.

Elective city officials will not receive a bonus.

15-Year-Old Youth Indicted For Murder

MARIETTA, Dec. 15—(P)—Bobby Herlan, 15, was indicted for first degree murder today. He is charged with the Aug. 1 slaying of 53-year-old Gordon Roe, farmer of nearby Newport.

The boy has been bound over to the grand jury after Juvenile Judge J. T. Thomas studied a report from the Bureau of Juvenile Research in Columbus. The bureau reported Bobby was "mentally sane but with low normal intelligence."

Kabul, the capital of Afghanistan recently paved its streets for the first time.

Ruth's Beauticians Win Three Games

Miss V. Williams smacked the maple for the good total of 537 to three-time win over the King-Kashers in Wednesday night's Ladies League bowling at Bowling.

The other three matches resulted in split decisions.

The NCR girls took the first and last games from the Paulin Motors from Mt. Sterling. The first two games were nip and tuck, but the last one was a romp for the NCRs.

Kirk's Tractorettes slid through to a victory in their opening game with the Wade Shobes, then had little trouble in taking the second. But, they lost the last tilt by 50 pins when they hit a slump.

The Helfrich Markettes could not get the range of the head pin in the opener, but they came back to win the last two games from the Mac Toolers.

Wilmington Loses to WHS Junior Cagers

The WHS junior high team got off on the right foot by trimming the Wilmington juniors 27 to 17.

In the first half it was clear sailing as Coach Fred Pierson's boys piled up a commanding 21 to 6 lead, but the WHS offense, screeched to a halt and could not muster a point until the fourth quarter.

After the Wilmington quintet began threatening, however, the blue and white juniors tightened up and added six more points to put the game on ice.

High scoring honors went to WHS's Milstead who dropped in 11 points.

Rudy Pilous, coach of the Louisville Blades of the U. S. Hockey League, never played pro hockey but is rated one of the best developers of young hockey players.

Change Likely In Cage Rules, Say Coaches

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 15.—(AP)—If the college basketball coaches have their way, this will be the last year for the rule that gives a team fouled both a free shot and possession of the ball in the last two minutes of play.

An Associated Press survey of many of the nation's ranking cage mentors showed a decided disapproval of the rule put into effect this year with the hopes it would reduce intentional fouling in the waning minutes of the game.

Of 36 coaches asked to express Allen came out wholeheartedly an opinion only Dr. F. C. (Phog) for it. The veteran University of Kansas coach would extend the two-minute rule to the entire game.

The rule calls for a time out while the free shot is being tried until the ball is thrown into play from out of bounds by the team fouled. The Skyline Conference lets the clock continue. The Big Ten permits two free throws on any foul by the defensive team in the closing two minutes with the ball remaining in play after the second shot, if missed.

Others including Clair Bee of Long Island University and Ed Diddle of Western Kentucky would adopt the professional rule. It calls for a jump ball at the foul line if the free shot is made and taken out of bounds if missed.

Two of Michigan State's top hurdlers, Horace Smith and Jesse Thomas, were left half-backs on the Spartans football team.

3 Matches Close In Lions League

The WCH Claws made the only clean sweep in Wednesday night's Lions League bowling at Bowland, but the WCH Tamers, who could win only two out of three, nosed them out for the high team score.

The WCH Tail Twisters lost the last two games to the Bloomingburg Claws after winning the first game, but the Bloomingburg Tail Twisters were knocked out in their first two games, before they were able to edge the Jamestown Tamers by 17 pins to win the last one.

Lions Improve Steadily For Circleville Game

With basketball fans around town waiting anxiously for Friday night's "go" against Circleville here, the WCH cagers went through their weekly scrimmage Wednesday night.

On and off for two hours, they worked under actual playing conditions to sharpen up their game.

With Coach Steve Lewis calling instructions and pointers from the sidelines, the boys worked up a good sweat as they split up into two teams and went at it hot and heavy for nearly two hours.

At several points, the WCH mentor stopped the play to point out an error or to make the boys check on their strategy, but generally he said that the squad showed a definite improvement in play.

In order to get a look at as many different combinations of five as possible, Lewis also shuffled the boys around during the scrimmage.

As the Blue Lion cagers know only too well, Lewis does not hesitate to bench a man and put someone new in the game, no matter how many games he's started.

With the WCH coach it's performance "right now" that counts. Right now, Lewis says, there are red hot battles on for practically all the starting positions Friday night.

In the back court it's a toss up between Sheldier, Archer, Blair and Brandenburg at the one guard spot and Shelton and Alkire at the other.

Up front, Robinette, Smith and Jordan are the three Lewis will pick two of his forwards from, while Pensyl or Nehf will be his choice for the center or third forward position.

All-America Gridders Cool Toward Pro Football Offers

By WILL GRIMSLEY
NEW YORK, Dec. 15—(AP)—Only one member of the 1949 college all-America—Jim Martin, the big Notre Dame tackle—is dead set on carrying on in professional football.

Four of the honored squad insist they definitely won't play for money while the other six are doubtful, their enthusiasm chilled by the recent merger of the two major pro circuits.

"It looks like the quick and easy money is gone," wailed Clayton Tonnemaker, the 245-pound center from Minnesota. "I'll probably try to capitalize on my physical education degree."

But in case the pros would like to dish out some of that heavy sugar, the Minneapolis boy added: "I'm listening."

Sharing the "undecided" fence with Tonnemaker are Leon Hart, the Notre Dame end who was voted the season's outstanding individual performer; his teammate, fullback Emil Sitko; halfback Doak Walker of Southern Methodist; guards Rod Franz of California and John Schweder of Pennsylvania.

Hat For Choo-Choo

"I definitely will not play pro football," said triple treat Charlie

Justice, the two-time all-America halfback from North Carolina.

Stringing along with him are Arnold Galiffa, the talented T-quarterback of army; Wade Walker, Oklahoma tackle, and Jim Williams, the Rice end.

Galiffa has three years of army duty waiting for him after he gets out of West Point. He plans to make the army his career.

Williams, who weighs only 185, said, "I'm not big enough for the pros. I'm just an all-round end and they want specialists these days." Wade Walker plans to coach.

Martin said it's his intention to have a fling at the pros, regardless of what the merger means. "I want to play a couple of years," he added.

His Notre Dame teammates, Hart and Sitko, want to wait and see, however.

Hart, drafted originally by the Detroit Lions and Baltimore Colts, declared he would play pro football if he got the right offer, say, "something like $25,000 as a starter."

No such plump enticements are expected from the new 13-team setup. There's a surplus of experienced talent and competitive bidding is out.

Rudduck Chosen For "Who's Who"

A former WCH Lion griddler and basketball today held a place of honor among college athletes.

Bill Rudduck, who played half-back on the WCH football team and guard on the basketball team back in the early days of the war before he went into the navy, is one of eight Wilmington College students selected for the 1950 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in America Colleges and Universities."

Bill was the co-captain and start halfback of the Wilmington College football team that won six games and lost two last season.

Last week, he was selected to

—Your Feed Lot Gates—
Are they swinging and latching well for your winter stock corral?

The feed lot is the gold mine of agriculture. Gates that swing and latch properly make the task of caring for stock more pleasant. The gates we manufacture here in Washington C. H. are made right and carry complete hardware installed for center hinging-hanging and latching. Ask to see two styles: called "The Ranchman" and "Streamliner."

The old time gates that we sold years ago had no hinges. You had to buy hinges, bolts, latch, etc., extra, the same as you formerly bought your auto: bumpers, lights, etc., as extras. This is the day of modern and complete manufacture. See Wilson's for the best in farm fence and gates.

Krall to Play At Honolulu

COLUMBUS, Dec. 15—(AP)—Jerry Krall, Ohio State University's star left halfback, said yesterday that he has accepted an invitation to play in the Hawaiian all-star football game in Honolulu January 14.

He will go to Honolulu after playing in the Rose Bowl January 2 against California.

Jack Lininger, OSU center and linebacker, said he turned down a similar invitation because he thought it would be too long to be away from home.

Continental grid stars will meet the Hawaiian all-stars.

Home Decorating

can be used just as effectively as elaborate displays. For their criterion, the judges will look for the general artistic effect, originality and ingenuity in the displays.

For those who don't know quite where to start, the judges reminded that the easiest way to brighten up the home is to replace regular outdoor lights with gayly colored bulbs.

Then of course, there is always the illuminated balsam or spruce that can be used to lend to the holiday atmosphere.

The decorations don't necessarily have to be outdoors. Many people rigged up very eye-catching window displays that could be viewed from the street.

As for rules and regulations, there are none in this contest except that only residential and not commercial displays will be considered for prizes.

Anything from simple candy cane motifs to a full fledged Santa and his reindeer will receive the attention of the judges, so get the family together and start planning.

The judges from the YBM, will be Sanderson, Donald Ault, Victor Smith and Robert Wise.

Large Turnout On Hand For Craig's Night

Men Serve Men In Annual Event; Many Laughs Turned Up

Craig's Men's Night again was a big success—judging from the large number of men who were there to spend the evening exchanging pleasantries, shopping and eating light refreshments served by the Craig's.

The annual affair, held Wednesday night, attracted a steady turnout of men. They were greeted at the door by Joe Peters, superintendent of the NCR plant here, and Fred Rost, who is associated with the Ray Brandenburg Motor Sales Inc.

A sales force of about 40, including 21 "guest" salesmen, was on hand to take care of the customers' wishes.

One of the favorite hangouts for the men was the refreshment stand on the first floor which was presided over by Don Gibson, apron and all. There were a variety of sandwiches but Swiss cheese shipped down from Monroe, Wis., was the number one attraction.

There were some good laughs for everyone as men asked men for certain "unmentionables."

Laughs Aplenty
To mention but a few of the things which provoked the facial ripple was the unclothing of a mannikin twice to allow a customer to buy "her" dress. Then there was Paul Pennington presiding over the lingerie counter; Charlie Hire selling Women's pejas and John Gerstner giving a convincing sales talk in the woman's scarf department.

Walter Shoop of Sabina was on hand with his accordion to keep the men entertained. He took the role of a walking troubador. Many of the men "just went down to look for something for the wife" but wound up spending the evening talking with the Craigs and their other friends.

The Craigs say it was about their 20th annual, no wonder at the reception which it got Wednesday evening.

County Courts

TWO DAMAGE SUITS

Two damage suits, one for $10,000 and the other for $1750, have been filed in common pleas court against Corda Clemans, Washington C. H. R. 5.

Mrs. Edwin C. Huber (Myrtle J.) is plaintiff in the $10,000 suit, and Edwin C. Huber is plaintiff in the $1750 action. Robert E. Wright, Mt. Sterling, is attorney for the plaintiffs.

The two suits are very much alike, and are both based on a traffic accident which occurred on the Waterloo Road, Oct. 22, 1949, about 8 P. M., when Huber, accompanied by his wife, were headed eastward on the highway, and the defendant also was headed eastward and attempted to turn into a driveway in front of plaintiff.

Both plaintiffs claim that the accident was the result of negligence on the part of the defendant, and that she turned her car in the path of the plaintiffs' car.

Mrs. Huber claims she sustained multiple fractures of her right leg and other injuries, which have prevented her from looking after her usual household duties, and have left her permanently impaired, for which she asks $10,000 and costs of suit.

Huber, in asking for damages, states that his auto was damaged $250; that he was deprived of the use of his car for 14 days, to his damage in the amount of $75; and as a second cause states that his wife's injuries have deprived him of her services, to his damage in the amount of $1,000; and that he expended $250 in medical and other costs, also asks $500 for money spent in employing help caring for their children and other work.
